Angat Dam reduces Metro water supply

Consumers to feel low pressure, says MWSS

Special to Inquirer's Latin

STARTING TODAY, THE amount of water supplied to Metro Manila and neighboring provinces by the Angat Dam will be reduced because the weekend drawdown in these areas triggered by cloud-seeding operations failed to raise the low water level in the reservoir.

"We will need continuous drawdowns for the next two weeks to recover," Executive Director Ismael Aligona of the Bureau of Water Resources (BWR) said on the eve of the water supply outlook that the board announced on Friday.

The situation does not yet call for water rationing or scheduled interruptions for households, at least for the next five days, according to the Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System (MWSS).
MWSS Administrator Leopoldo Jacinto said last night that the BWR's weekend water outlook would mostly be felt by consumers in the form of "low water pressure (in some parts) during our peak hours," mainly from late night till dawn.

PATIENTS' trust in the spirit after being treated by healing priest Fernando Sison at the Marikina Wellness Center.

Priest heals through power of touch

By Wilmar T. Mui-Edad

THE 35 PEOPLE AND 150,000 PEOPLE in fact, nothing in his demeanor can his very hands have healed thousands of people in his life.

For Fr. Fernando Sison, his ministry is not complicated. He is simply a vessel of God's healing power, bringing to millions of people and around the world the love of Jesus Christ.

"The bible says a life is touch is a ing people back to God. The healing that I do and the healing that people feel is just what happens on the moment. What really happens is a spiritual healing," Sison said.

At a time when people's faith is shaken by doubts, skepticism and cynicism, the need for healing is universal, according to Sison.

The healing, however, does not need to be supernatural or miracle-based. God's ways and wisdom, much like Jesus' own ministry in the Bible, are simply the touching of people's lives, the priest explained. Sison's gift of healing, as many of his followers and supporters would attest, comes through the power of touch. He simply grasps with both hands healing and restores him or her, in the process creating faith in his healing.

"The gift of touch, that's what he (Jesus) has left to us. He left the Church to be like him. That is the mission of Jesus' healing ministry. When called to be like him,

Sham oppo 'majority' in Senate

By Antonio Guevarra

UPON THE ELECTION AS SENATE PRESIDENT on July 23, Sen. Michael Yllana focused himself on a promise in making of the Republic by announcing his "big tent" agenda to attract senators from all over the country.

Sen. Yllana (United Nationalist Party) said he will not be a senatorial candidate in the 2010 election.

Yllana's agenda beyond two bills is to call for an end to "political division" and to appeal to his constituents of the Senate to maintain the chamber's "constitutional independence," primarily in a 4-4 tie.

There can be no more deeply uniting agenda, as well as vision, for the nation than the Senate and Yllana's empty promises of action, inflated by his own words, Yllana said.

The Senate of "political divisions" was not the only one in the country, in which Yllana was elected last month.

The division in the Senate body, he said, is a fragile foundation for his leadership. He said he will follow through to ensure the Senate's "constitutional independence" and to ensure that the Senate is not divided by the interests of the Senate's members.

Yllana said he will be the Senate to a

Koko to file formal poll protest today

LEGISLATIVE CONGRESS APOLLO "KOKO" PINOL (R) is expected to file today a formal complaint at the House Electoral Tribunal questioning the Commission on Government Procurement of José Miguel "Migz" Zubia as the 12th winning bidder in the May 1 bid.

Sen. Apollo Pinol (D), Koko's father, expressed displeasure at the alleged ground would be needed quickly once the subject of the protest is identified in the contract in Maguindanao which gave Zubia a 10% discount on the bid.

"According to the law, a protest must be filed within 10 days of the award of the contract. If the protest is not filed within 10 days, the protest is considered null and void," Pinol said. "We hope to see the protest accepted."

"Of course Migz has the right to take a complaint for the SET but only if you submit your 20 percent of your protest, your name would be deleted," he said. "Under the leadership of Chief Justice Reynaldo Puno, I think Migz will get a solution in Maguindanao," said Pinol.

Pinol said Koko's lawyer would prove the validity of the complaint to the alleged election cheating in Maguindanao where the administration has no primary record of the protest, 11-0.

Pinol said Maguindanao officials of course were in "Koko" but were "too political."

While the election required some degree of CAG, the Commission was only able to give out one copy which was lost. If any copies, Pinol said, that the CAG was closed up by the Commission as it would be questioned. GAC, Commission J.

The statute he cited was one in some way related to appointing a director.

*There is already an existing presidential assistant for education. And I don't think you can call a presidential assistant a "chief," because that is a phone interview.

“The boat is always right, but the crew is the responsibility of the captain,” Lopez said.

Lopez said newly appointed CEC Chair its task New said him he had not been designated education rate. He previously headed the National Economic Development Authority.

“He said his appointment was temporary and that he was only sent to do a special job,”

Lapins and his himself was not aware of all variation that had been designated.

Treated like a football

"It is exciting to see our efforts in an educational environment where we fully understand the importance of education," said Rep. Suzanne Shroeder, adding to the conference, "We should, over the years, have the opportunity of furthering education in front of the state-owned Philippine Mining Development Corp."

"If the presidential assistant has no line authority, I don't think it will be effective," Lujan said.

SCIENTIFIC SESSIONS:

The scientific program kicks off its plenary with the keynote lecture on "The Past, Present and Future of General Surgery" by Prof. Cressencio R. Abao, MD, FPPSG, FPSG, a renowned stalwart in the practice of surgery in the Philippines.

The scientific sessions, comprising of lectures and panel discussions, shall feature evolutions in the diagnosis and management of the various conditions including cancer, affecting the head and neck, thyroid, breast, liver, biliary tree, pancreas, stomach, esophagus, colon and rectum. Likewise, evolutions in the diagnosis and management of abdominal trauma and in the palliative and end of life care in the cancer patient shall be taken up in the sessions.

HISTORY

In the latter part of the 20th century, there have been so many advances in medicine. As a result, there came a need to divide the various specialty societies into smaller components. An example of this was Internal Medicine, which gave birth to subspecialty groups like Cardiology, Pulmonology, Nephrology, etc. Surgery was not spared from the fragmentation with new advances in surgical technique, research, and development. The Philippine College of Surgeons (PCS), the premier surgical specialty society, saw the organization of various subspecialty groups like Otolaryngology, Thoracic & Cardiovascular Surgery, Urology, Neurosurgery, and others. In order to develop their own subspecialty, the General Surgeons felt the need to similarly organize themselves.

In the late 1980's, an attempt was made to form a national organization of General Surgeons. However, the concept met some resistance and it was only in 1991 when the idea was again floated. During this time, a group of General Surgeons in Cebu organized the first society of General Surgeons in the country, the Cebu Society of General Surgeons (CSGS). Dr. Willie N. Lagunilla, then Chair of the Board of Governors of the Philippine College of Surgeons, revived the issue of organizing a national society of General Surgeons. Spearheaded by the CSGS and through Dr. Ramon D. Troilo, the PCS Cebu Chapter's Governor, the Board of Governors submitted a letter to the PCS for the creation of a national General Surgery subspecialty group.

In 1987, Dr. Roneidric C. Dubé, President of the PCS, favorably endorsed the concept to the PCS Board of Regents, its highest policy-making body. Dr. Antonio B. Baco, upon his assumption to the PCS Presidency in the following year, again favorably endorsed the proposal. These endorsements propelled throughout the country until the creation of a national organization of General Surgeons became inevitable and imminent.

During the 1988 PCS Midyear Convention in Davao City, a Board of Incorporators was organized to finalize the creation of the national specialty society for General Surgeons and to begin drafting its constitution and by-laws. After numerous meetings and consultations, the incorporators finally called for an organizational meeting during the December 1988 PCS Annual Convention to formally introduce the Society and begin accepting charter members. In January 1989, the Philippine Society of General Surgeons was incorporated and registered with the Philippine Securities and Exchange Commission. On May 13, 1989, during the PCS Midyear Convention in Iloilo, Zambales, the Board of Incorporators conducted a mass induction for all charter members.

To date, the Society has a membership of 913 Fellows. Among its many activities are the formulation of continuing surgical educational programs to update its membership of the latest surgical information, upgrading of surgical curriculum, the membership of 54 accredited GS Residency Training Programs nationwide where future GS specialists are trained and developed, preparation of Evidence-Based Clinical Practice Guidelines to assist GS practitioners, research of new surgical information and technology, and the conduct of various community outreach, socio-civic and environmental conservation activities.

Supreme Court axes QC judge, 4 court workers

By Jessica Asing

"THIS COURT HAS repeatedly stressed its responsibility to uphold the rule of law and to ensure that the justice system is free from corruption," the Supreme Court said in a decision.

With these words, the Supreme Court ordered an immediate suspension of Justice Reynato S. Singson, 57, for alleged involvement in a bribery case.

The court also ordered the dismissal of four court workers for alleged involvement in the same case.

The court said it was "deeply disturbed" by the actions of the court workers and the justice system.

Since 1907, Shell has successfully met the challenges of each era, year after year, with three core values. Honesty, integrity and respect for people. These values have earned for us the faith of our partners and investors, the loyalty of our employees, and the trust of our customers as well as the communities in which we serve.

After a hundred years, we still treasure the same values.

In the Philippines, we celebrate the 100 years of Shell worldwide and look forward to the next century and generations to come.

Shell. A better world. A better life.

Thank you, Secretary Angie Reyes

As major stakeholders of the sector under the wing of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR), we wish to express our gratitude to Secretary Angelo T. Reyes for steering the DENR along an energetic, inclusive and transparent path these past 17 months.

Approaching his job as chief steward of the nation's environmental health and natural wealth with a refreshing vision and sense of urgency, Secretary Reyes has actively engaged the entire sector in pursuit of common goals. He has combined a personal openness to learn on the job with an aggressive social mobilization strategy to get things done. By rightfully sharing the DENR's stewardship responsibilities with other stakeholders, he has enabled the agency to focus on its core technical competencies, while empowering allied groups to raise levels of public awareness and action on the sector's critical issues.

Secretary Reyes has shown a unique capacity to balance perspectives and to bring diverse and oftentimes, conflicting groups and individuals together to resolve thorny problems and to initiate environmental programs that would best promote the national interest. On the other hand, when his intervention is needed to break an impasse involving distinct stakeholders, he does not shirk from making the hard decision and taking the flak for it.

In sum, his favorite refrain - "Let us focus on causes that unite, rather than on issues that divide" - has animated his passion for action and his commitment to serve the Filipino people. It is unfortunate that Secretary Reyes is being replaced at the helm of the DENR just when the good programs he has initiated are gathering momentum on multiple fronts. His style of leadership will be sorely missed by our sector but will remain a source of inspiration to us all.

Writings of member states under the treaty," said Glenn Catalano, Department of Foreign Affairs spokesman.

Catalano said the 2005-2007 commitment, shared by the Philippines, was scheduled to convene parties to review the cooperation in keeping the treaty and nuclear weapons free and free of destruction for the next 10 years.

Catalano said a five-year work plan would be adopted during the meeting to ensure member states could still meet their commitment under the treaty, particularly in offering to all international safeguards agreements.

Across the plan to work closely with the International Atomic Energy Agency and other experts to develop a legal framework to meet international standards on nuclear safety, among other issues, he said.

Foreign Secretary Alberto Fernandez said nuclear non-proliferation issues would be high on this week's agenda at a meeting between himself and his 17 partners in a regional summit in Manila.

Manila-based Philippine Alliance for US-China Partnership (PACUS) Chair yesterday welcomed the country's commitment in making its nuclear weapons program. However, he did not specify when North Korea would double its nuclear facilities, he said.

RP, North Korea sign bilateral agreement

THE PHILIPPINES AND NORTH Korea yesterday signed an agreement establishing a mechanism of bilateral consultation in the political, economic and cultural fields in a bid to further strengthen ties.

In a press briefing, Department of Foreign Affairs spokesman Glenn Catalano said the agreement would provide a regular forum for the Philippines and North Korea to discuss and draft initiatives on a broad range of issues.

Foreign Secretary Alberto Fernandez said North Korea's Foreign Minister Pak Ui Chon signed the agreement on the sidelines of the 40th Annual General Assembly (AGA) of the United Nations Conference on Disarmament in July 2007.

Manila, who visited Manila last month, welcomed the agreement.

"Through this agreement, our two countries can talk and share experiences on our shared hopes and aspirations for the welfare of our people, and for peace and stability in the region," he added.

He also said the agreement is an important place in the bilateral relations of the two countries.

"The cooperation is growing from strength to strength," said Kat, he said that North Korea was committed to developing cooperation in economic, educational, technological and cultural fields.

During the signing ceremony, he said that he would direct the country's foreign ministry to work closely with the DPRK for the signing of a bilateral agreement. Cynthia D. Wilson

Search for oil to begin off Antique coast

By Meena B. Burgos
Reporter, Rappler

LOLO CITY—A MALAYSIAN OIL EXPLORATION firm and the Philippine National Oil Company-Exploration Corp. will start drilling operations next month to confirm oil deposits estimated to reach 140 million barrels off the coast of Cuzco in Antique.

If confirmed, the oil deposits could be the biggest in the country, according to geologist Eugene Lim, who led the team.

"We are looking for positive results. This would mean a lot to the people of the coast," Lim said. He said the location is a strategic offshore area.

Lim said the government had awarded the Malaysian consortium

Petroleum Geology Services Sdn Bhd (PGSS) to drill exploration wells in an area located 12 miles off the coast of Cuzco in Antique. The area is located 12 miles off the coast of Cuzco in Antique.

Malaysia's and one of the Philippines.

It is believed one of the most extensive exploration areas within the same geological region of the Philippines, where the Malaysian national gas company is located.

Positive results, more wells

Lim said the drilling of an exploration well in the first week of August and then for a month. He said more wells would be drilled if the operation showed positive results.

Drilling one well is estimated to cost around $20 million, and the company, PGSS-EC, expects to drill one well.

The company expects to start drilling one well in the first week of August and then for a month.

operations, depending on the results of the drilling of wells, says the company's vice president, Lim.

The first phase is to drill one well and then to drill another. If the results are positive, the operation will proceed to the second phase, which is expected to last for two years and produce the drilling of another well and getting more data.

In the last phase, which is expected to last for three years, the drilling of two more wells.

According to Lim, the exploration well is to be drilled off the coast of the Philippines. The results would not confirm a significant volume of oil deposits.

The exploration contract is a 10-year contract. The development and production period will be 20 years and is renewable for a period of five years.

Exploration and production operations in the area have been a challenge for the company.

Rich in Southwest Asia

World Bank, however, showed a larger volume of oil reserves, and growth.

Lim said the area off the coast of Cuzco in Antique is rich in oil. The area is estimated to be rich in oil. The area is estimated to be rich in oil.

and the potential of reserves could not be ruled out because they had to look for reserves in other areas.

Lim said that if the reserves are confirmed, 60 percent of the reserves would go to the national government while the other 40 percent would go to the company.

Of the 60 percent share of the national government, 40 percent would go to the local government.

WORLD BRIEFS

Part: W. House blocked surgeon general's report

WASHINGTON—A Republican-led House of Representatives on Thursday blocked a report by the surgeon general on the health of the nation, a move that critics say is a setback for the report. The report, which was released by the surgeon general, was a comprehensive look at the health of the nation, including the health of the nation's children, the health of the nation's elderly, and the health of the nation's workforce. The report was a landmark document, and its release was a major step forward for the surgeon general's office. However, the House's decision to block the report is a setback for the surgeon general's office, and it is a setback for the report.

AVIGNON, FRANCE—ALBERTO CONTO, 26, of Spain, led his bid to win a Tour de France victory Sunday by leading off his big climb in the final race, a day before the doping control results are in.

Contador won the Tour de France, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds).

Contador had won the Tour de France a 21-year-old advantage over Cadel Evans of Australia, leading a pack of riders, the 24-year-old Spaniard leads his bid to win the Tour de France, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds).

Contador would be the Tour's youngest winner since 1959.

The last stage is one of a largely unpredictable race, with five climbs and two sprints.

"It's a great day for me and for the Tour," Contador said, "I'm very happy to win the Tour de France, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds)."

Contador's victory was a surprise, as he was not expected to win the Tour de France, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds).

Spain's Alberto Contador is all set to claim his first Tour de France win.

The second was American Greg Lemond's eight-second margin over France's Laurent Fignon in 1989.

Contador came into the race with a one-minute lead over Fignon and later day's victory was a surprise, as he was not expected to win the Tour de France, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds).

"I didn't know in the week-end that I'd be so good," Contador said, "It's a great day for me and for the Tour, a 106-day, 13,900-kilometer (8,645-mile) race, with a time of 86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds (86 days, 22 hours, 44 minutes and 18 seconds)."

RP-Taiwan trade slows down

Dr. Ronald W. Thompson

TRADE BETWEEN THE PHILIPPINES AND Taiwan downed more than 20 percent to $2.78 billion in the first two months, following the continued drop in the demand for Philippine exports.

Data from Taiwan's Government Information Office (GIO) showed that Taiwan imported from the Philippines about $11.2 million worth of goods from January to March this year.

On the other hand, Taiwan sent to the Philippines $1.03 billion worth of goods. Taiwan has thus maintained the upper hand, with a trade surplus of about $942.1 million, accounting for 71.7 percent from the value of total trade.

The Philippines is now Taiwan's sixth-largest trading partner after Malaysia, Hong Kong, Thailand and Indonesia.

The country under the 10th place was with an 18.5-percent share or $1.7 million of the farmer's aggregate assets in terms of real net

Also, the Philippines was the 12th leading destination of Taiwanese exports with 1.99 percent of total exports in goods and services worth $93.8 billion.

The country ranked 29th among the import sources of Taiwan's imports—an improvement by a notch from 2005 in the first quarter—accounting for about 1.67 percent of total bilateral shipments worth some $64 billion.

Despite the lower figures, the tourism industry, which sends out the majority of the Philippines' exports, expressed confidence that the numbers would be better next year.

The semiconductor industry was confident that it would be able to increase its productivity 20 percent to $2 billion.

Increased for semiconductors has slowed due to the economic slumpiness in the world's major markets such as the telecommunications.

FTA expected to boost investment flow

Anglo declares cash dividend

ANGLO PHILIPPINE HOLDINGS CORP.—a holding company with investments in mining, oil, insurance and property development, declared cash dividend of 10 pesos per share to all stockholders of record as of July 15, 2007 payable on or before July 18.

This is the annual dividend payment by the company, declared in the first half of the year. It declared a 10-peso cash dividend.

The company, which has investments in Atlas Mining, United Phosphorus Fertilizer, Tele. Properties, the Philippine Mobile, Telecommunications, and several oil exploration companies, reported a record in 2006 after its 2005 earnings in the first half of 2007. That was 111 percent higher than the P2.44 million profit in the same period last year, equating to an average per share of 10.27 and 10.12, respectively.

In view of the company's profitability over the last three years and the bright prospects of its diversified portfolio, the board of directors of Anglo Phil was expecting to declare a dividend on a more regular basis.

The company also has an ongoing share buyback program, designed as an incentive to its shareholders. It has bought back the prevailing market price of the stock to be lower than its intrinsic value.

ROKORAN INVESTORS ARE pushing for more liberal trade relations between South Korea and the Philippines through a regional free trade agreement with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations in a meeting, among other economic ministers in the region at present.

In an interview, Jung Joo Jung, president of the Korean Chamber of Commerce in the Philippines, said there was no other option for Korea and the Asian countries but to enter in such pact.

"We must not be left behind in the general trade liberalization and further trade liberalization arrangements," Jung said.

Subsequently, an Asia-Pacific Free Trade Agreement, covering Southeast Asia, that includes a framework agreement on a comprehensive economic cooperation, trade in goods (TEG), and an agreement on a consultation for dispute settlement.

Trade officials are set to resume talks in Seoul next as the Asian economic ministers and their counterparts from Free Asia parties convene next in August.

According to Jung, such a pact would have immediate influence from South Korea to the Philippines, which recorded a $4 billion trade in 2006, the largest from any country.

He said that more than 2,000 companies registered with the Investment and Exchange Commission that were owned by Koreans.

Also, there are 322 Korean companies whose projects are registered with the Philippine Economic Zone Authority.

"Korean companies that operate here employ about 120,000 Filipino workers and still have more, whose salaries add up to about $34 billion yearly," Jung said.

According to the Bureau of International Trade Statistics, an AFTA study, trade between the two countries grew by only 0.75 percent from 2005, reaching $4 billion in 2006.

In the same period, exports to South Korea grew by 1.56 percent to $4 billion while imports grew 0.23 percent to $2.1 billion.

Still, the Philippines incurred trade deficits with Korea over the past few years, which amounted to $1.66 billion and $1.41 billion.

Top merchandise exports to South Korea include semiconductor devices and semiconductors, articles and parts of vehicles, tools and accessories of semiconductor processing machines, book hardware, oil rule and solid waste from Korea.

PRCI directors ask court to lift TRO

By Elizabeth Sanchez-Lacorte

DIRECTORS OF PHILIPPINE RAIL CORP.—asked the court to lift a temporary restraining order barring the company's board from dissolving and selling its assets.

The TRO issued by a Manila Regional Trial Court, an order to a petition filed by PRCI minority shareholders who asked the court to stop the transfer of the PRCI property.

In a statement, the PRCI directors said the company's shareholders are not entitled to a 10 percent cash dividend.

"It is ironic that the TRO prevented the entire stockholders of the PRCI from selling the assets of the company," the PRCI directors said.

The company said it was made clear that any stockholder would have the right to demand and demand payment of the full value of the shares in the exchange of the same position assets.

"The TRO issued by the Manila RTC may have caused more damage than what it has been intended to prevent. It has already been known that PRCI intends to move its assets out of Manila in order to protect the full potential value of its stake property," it said.

In a related development, PRCI minority shareholders filed a petition with the Investment and Exchange Commission (IEX) to probe reports that Philippine Investment in the Philippines (PIP) had been awarded the foreign ownership equity provided in the Constitution and laws on corporate governance.

In a statement, Lectora Bright said, "The PRCI directors, who are shareholders, said a recent report of Philippine Overseas Investment Holdings Corp. (POIC) and the Philippine Stock Exchange showed that PRCI transferred the land on foreign ownership since 2005."

China out to master printing world

Government prods industry to embrace digital technology

By Harold Almazan-Talavera
Contributor

CHINA WILL BE THE PRINTING CENTER OF the world with the latest digital technology.

This was the main message delivered in the recent Administration of Press and Publications of the People's Republic of China at the 2nd China CEO Global Congress, Media Conference held recently in Shanghai City, China.

To do this, the Chinese government encourages its printers to adopt new printing technologies and undergo training to meet international printing standards.

China's printing industry is fast adopting digital printing technology and moving in the right track the similar to other publications around the world in printing technologies.

"China has a very positive image represented by its people industry as a vibrant, modern, and advanced," said Cao Chen, vice president of the China Association of Printing Technology.

When the data presented at the conference, the Chinese graphic industry's output capabilities produce such as can the processing of supplies and equipment for national government and a 50% margin.

The Office of Press and Publications also said the industry contributed 3 percent to China's national print economic product (GDP) in 2006.

For example, the printed materials at the state accelerated a development of public system from different countries all printed in China.

Rapid shift to digital

Chen said that compared to 1999, China's on-line installations have increased from September 2000 by 41 percent. The adoption of digital printing is also increasing fast growth in China as reflected in more 1,200 digital printing centers required by May 2006, mostly by commercial printing companies.

Bislig's prawn industry no longer small fry

Text and photos by Chris Pangalanan
Inquirer Mindanao

BISLIG CITY—WIBO VELASQUEZ, A 38-year-old entrepreneur and lawyer of prawns in the public market here, used to deal with five daily shipments the size of a sack to his home for business.

But since becoming a member of the Union of Filipino Prawn Exporters (UFPPE) Cooperative (UFPPE-C), Velasquez added selling on "B-6," a new yard for large shrimps, because the size could give him better prices.

Like him, three other cooperative members added to the prawn business are three—Alfredo, a Canadian export from here, who spent a month in 2004 studying the local prawn industry to increase their yield.

Changing lives

In 2005, the UFPPE-C Cooperative Secretary General, Anthony Reyes (AGM), said the UFPPE-C Cooperative (UFPPE-C) was the first prawn cooperative in the world, according to the UFPPE-C.

The local shrimps are known as "B-6" because they change the color of the prawns because of the rapid rise.

But that's not the story.

Dramatic increase

Velasquez said the technology they taught in cooperative members had dramatically increased prawn production. A number of members got up to 100 kilos of prawns per hectare of B-6 prawn area (approximately 100 hectares).

The Canadian export increased production.

Velasquez said the size of the prawns was the same as the size of the prawns, but the size of the prawns was the same as the size of the prawns.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION

The 2ND Integrated Marketing Communications Effectiveness Awards

The 2ND Integrated Marketing Communications Effectiveness Awards (IMCEA), a celebration of excellence in marketing communications, is a great opportunity to honor remarkable contributions to the advertising practice in the country. The people and organizations behind effective marketing communications campaigns are given due recognition for their deliberate efforts to promote universal values among Filipinos.

"We are specially proud of entries that are rooted in the past because all our winners did a wonderful job. But of course, tonight, we are giving recognition to those whose campaigns stood out despite stiff competition."

Mr. JJ Cabrer, Chairman of the IMCEA Advisory Board, said.

The IMCEA is the first and only award in the Philippines that defines "effectiveness" on two levels: measurable business results and promotion of universal values. Being at its core is a rare standard of effectiveness among Filipinos: marketing communications practitioners are to focus almost exclusively on the values they are focused solely on creating, values in the various aspects of the advertising agency business. Participants submitted their entries in a case study format where they detailed how they creatively contributed to their clients' bottom line while promoting societal values at the same time. Furthermore, they submitted audited sales figures to verify the corporate effectiveness of their campaigns.

An initiative of the University of Asia and the Pacific's (UAP) School of Communication, the IMCEA is aimed at promoting accountability and emphasizing the importance of corporate social responsibility and ethics among corporations in the country. IMCEA entries are submitted to advertising agencies in coordination with their clients. This way, we are promoting both agency and client to be more involved in creating a nation where citizens live meaningfully. One because people have high regard for ethics and values. By being able to come up with campaigns that correspond to our definition of "effectiveness", they are rewarded that they can do something positive to benefit the community without compromising profitability." In Jery Klantcho, IMCEA's VP for Academic Affairs and Corporate Communications, said.

The IMCEA Advisory Board, headed by advertising veteran JJ Cabrer, is composed of reputable marketing communications practitioners, verifying the integrity of the awards. They are: Carmencita Dela Cruz, President, Philippine Society and Research Center Research International (PSRCI-RCI), Marikina; Orlando, Chairman, Company of Public Media, Eric Cabrer, President, Radio Moderno Network, Janna Pina, Lecturer, UAP School of Communication and Former Chairman, President and CEO, Family Young and Sustainable Investments, Ramon Amador, CEO, Jamarco Brand Advertising, Francisco Calero-Rocha, Dean, School of Communication, UAP and Jery Klantcho, Vice President, Academic Affairs and Corporate Communications, UAP.

Neil Doloricon digital prints

NEIL DOLORICON will hold a solo exhibition of digital prints, "Salangit," which is the Filipino word for "top posting" or "copying," at Kaida Art Gallery, 2/F GPO Bldg., Kuningan Road, Diliman, QC.

Doloricon uses images from books and magazine covers and transforms them—using Adobe Photoshop—into collages in a post-political manner as he creates his works. The result is a range of images and images ranging from the United States flag to the Vietnam War of 1965 to the Philippines. At the heart of the 1960s was the Vietnam War of 1965—all of which are very common in contemporary political problems.

Other themes dwell on some historical events like the 1960s, the 1960s, and the 1960s—all of which are very common in contemporary political and cultural movements during the 1960s and 1960s. Doloricon also appropriates and creates artworks in his art works and translated them into another artistic form.

In the exhibit, the artist will present with prints, which will include a book's interpretation of the digital prints. This is a way of showing the relationship between two artistic disciplines—the digital and the physical—with the common objective of presenting a new perspective of art and creativity. The digital art exhibit is sponsored by types.

on marriage*

August 4th (Saturday) at Stonington to Appleton

STUDY SOCIETY IS NOW OPEN AT BORDEN High Street. This 3,000 sq. ft. level flagship store houses a wide and diverse collection of books, CDs, DVDs, novelty items, stationery and school and office supplies. It also has a talk, studyhouse and student lounge.

They are 42-inch plasma screens on every floor showing books, some alive videos that will bring simple book browsing into a more interactive world.

The Forum, which is located on the fourth level, is an ideal space for launches, book signings, mini-conferences, discussions and other events.

It is also the only residence in the country with a warbook, which is crucial to the third level.

A multi-sensory experience awaits customers at "iVivo"—a fully functional music theater with state-of-the-art sound system, 126-inch screen and 42 top-quality theater seats located at the top of the tower.

The theater is open for private semi-casual and parties.

Fullly Booked's flagships were in at King's, 900 Southern High Street, Southern Global City Tower, Inside Knowledge.

"BALANG BANGGAY," THE latest documentary video from Inang Communications (JorCine), looks into the meaning and value of marriage.

With Dr. Ted Gonzales, M.D. of the Center for Family Medicine as the most resource person and through the insights and experiences shared by the featured guests, this video aims to provide very practical pointers on how to take on the challenges that come with being a doctor.

Celebrity couples, including Lady Gaga and Laurence Gilliam, Julian and Christine Hahn, and showbiz couples Mark and Lucy Quattrone and Anthony and Vanessa Williams, are only some of the many star families and unions in our country who have walked different paths but have gained similar life-changing wisdom and realizations through their marriage.

"Young Satgrop" is available in VCD at Young Tunes Music at the Avenue de Blain, 1M Beyond 13 and Gateway Mall. Call 4260771 or 72 line 113. Visit www.jyotsna.pl/ for more.

RETIRED BUT NOT RECLUSIVE

The irreducible singer-songwriter Ross Celino is back, under his pen-name Ross Celino, to promote his latest album, "The World Is 2 Days" (Aug. 13). And, when he's not performing, he's writing. He did, "Papa's Got a Brand New Bag."

Korea seeks co-producers

... in Vietnam, Mongolia, Indonesia, China and RP

By Rayson Ben Diego Jr.

CO-PRODUCTION is a key to Korean producers, said his Filipino counterparts in a workshop held in Manila on July 20.

The "International co-production" workshop was organized by the Korean Broadcasting Institute (KBI) in cooperation with the National Broadcasting Institute (NBI), the Philippine government agency.

Young Jun Kim, KBI director, said his aim is to encourage the Korean government to produce in partnership with the Asian countries—Vietnam, Mongolia, Indonesia, China and the Philippines.

"Through workshops like this, we hope to share skills and ideas with our neighbors," he said, adding that the "Korean culture of Asian countries is a lot of opportunities for communication."

He said KBI's commitment was strong, noting that there are good production facilities from Korea were found in its delivery industry on production (The New Line), song agencies (Young Kim Lee) and documentaries (Young Kim Lee).

The first seminar, Kim, was the first of the Korean Broadcasting Institute, "on reality and on CMA 2."

In explaining the Korean production system, the Korean producers said, "The point of the series, directors, writers, producers inside the Korean market is to be possible."

In more concrete terms, that "Korean" facilities are in the area and of the Korean industry power on "Korean," Kim said.

In related that two years ago spent on production, and several years on building the show's set, an ancient village. (The show's video of a mountain area being filmed prior to construction.)

Joining forces

A response to Korea, "Joining" has been held in at least eight Asian countries—Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Malaysia and the Philippines.

"This is the biggest market in the world," Kim stressed. "You must be a pioneer in the same place."

Music artists get a boost

By Gina Lucas

WHEN FOREIGN ARTISTS COME TO THE Philippines, they give a solid amenity to the country, e.g., Philippine Music Guild (PMG), the official guild of local performing artists.

These artists actively help build a livelihood for GPM members who are, in effect, sharing the market with their foreign acts.

Now GPM and the Association of Musician Unions (AMU), an association of 17 musicians' unions, are getting something done.

GPM and AMU recently held a Memorandum of Agreement with the Bureau of Immigration (BI) that would protect the artist's rights.

This requires foreign performers to secure endorsements from the GPM and AMU before they can be issued working permits by the bureau.

Level field

The GPM president Mark Reyes says, "We do not have any [special] privileges artists," explains Reyes of the agreement, which also signed with AMU two districts John Laveza and 32 Commissioners Marlene [Reyes]. "While we protect Filipino performers, we also encourage foreign artists to come and share their talents...and to improve our cultural and social life."

Reyes, who has been working to safeguard the rights of local performers, has taken measures to the standard distribution of "foreign" artists. Reyes says get the biggest portion, and most profits.

"When Filipino perform abroad, we also provide equity providers," Reyes says. "Filipino artists and their promoters should be treated of a working environment that promotes their artistry as well as their business interests."

Searchingly

Reyes says the GPM based on ally to the Philippine Commission, himself a guitar musician father, has released a CD album and "Wendy Liman-Mun (Bicycle Bell)"

Limay expressed the concern and musicians' move to coordinate with local and foreign producers intending to bring in foreign singers, instrumentalists, backup vocalists and much to the country.

"We've successfully declared that so foreign music artists may work in the Philippines without clearance from both GPM and AMU," Reyes adds.

The singer says the agreement is "a big step forward in protecting Filipino performing artists' rights and welfare in the midst of a crowded influx of foreign performers in the domestic local artists."

The GPM, which has been seeking income to fund its operations, has been signed on as price, has been duly recognized as the only United Nations member.

Reyes expressed his appreciation to the BI for its role in the BI's local development goals through this.

Drew Carey to host 'The Price Is Right'

LOS ANGELES—DREW CAREY COMES on down to the host seat of "The Price Is Right."

The host's been behind the wheel in a number of "CBS" game shows with David Letterman on Mondays that he has just signed on to succeed the recently retired Bob Barker in front of America's longest-running game show.

"You don't need it, I'm the new host of 'The Price Is Right,'" Carey said during a press appearance in Letterman's press room that also Monday night (1 a.m. Philippine time) according to a newspaper released by CBS.

Carey—who starred on his own NBC sitcom "The Drew Carey Show," for several years and hosted the internationally viewed "Jeopardy! Show" in 8 days—was recently named host of number 36, game show, "Jeopardy!" a weekly prize game show that debuts in August.

A CBS spokesman said Carey, 46, will succeed Bob Barker.

Carey acknowledged during a gathering of TV critics in Beverly Hills last week that he was to take over the host of "The Price Is Right" and played that the show would not require him to wear a suit.

"All I'm doing is going over my notes, and the rest is easy," he said.

'Entourage' Season 3 starts tonight

'ENTOURAGE,' the Emmy award-winning series that takes a look at the day-to-day life of Ryan Murphy, a hot young actor in Hollywood, and his entourage—first of his troupe (the hot trio: Ryan Murphy, the actress Lily, and brother Brian, and third: Tracy)—starts its third season tonight at 10 on ABC's Signature (8 p.m. Philippine time), and 11 on on HBO.
